COAL MINERS WEAKENING?

Recognition of the Union.

In the anthracite conferences now going on in this city the miners have weakened considerably on the "recognition of the union" demand with the "check off" system. In fact, they are about ready to drop the last feature altogether in the hope of making a reasonable compromise on the increase in wares demand. The operators are inclined to grant a 5 per cent increase, but they can't see the 20 per cent demanded by the union.

Those who ought to know say the conference will last another fortnight, and that the minera will make a strong argument for a 6 or 7 per cent increase and probably win out, as they did in the coft coal conference. The operators would probably yield this in the event of the union not pressing the "check off" system.

Deputy Attorney Caneral Smith Your Eyes

Deputy Attorney General Smith said: "I went to San Francisco at the request of the Exposition Commission. As I understand it, the Commission invited Attorney General Woodbury to go or to send some one from his office with the special purpose of attending to some logal matters in relation to contracts and disposition of property. I was delegated by the Attorney General to so.
